

Insurance Litigation

Insurance conflicts are typically highly complex and technical, carrying significant values and commercial risks. The sensitivity nature or large scale of underlying issues can further complicate insurance conflicts. Moroğlu Arseven has extensive experience representing policyholders, beneficiaries, third-party claimants, intermediaries, insurers, reinsurers and other interested parties during their insurance-related conflicts.

Our support involves the full spectrum of forums, including litigation, arbitration and alternative dispute resolution methods, along with strategic negotiation and settlement processes. The firm also supports clients to proactively avoid disputes by offering tailored risk assessments for individual policies at the pre-underwriting stage.

We also advise reinsurers about their policy risks and are regularly engaged to represent policyholders before courts to prevent the ultimate risks which could potentially emerge for reinsurers. We have advised reinsurers in mega infrastructure and construction projects from contract phase through to dispute stages.

Local insurance disputes in Turkey generally go to Insurance Arbitration Commission. Moroğlu Arseven has significant experience representing clients before this body, including representing insurers to handle large portfolios of claims.

Moroğlu Arseven assists clients from the early stages of policy coverage and exclusion issues, developing tailored risk management and dispute resolution strategies. The firm's strong dispute resolution team works closely with insurance professionals, actuaries, valuers and technical experts to support our clients' negotiation positions. These cross-discipline teams develop tailored negotiation, settlement or litigation strategies to assist our clients in resolving insurance conflicts, often leading to early-stage settlements.

The firm's experience spans a wide range of policy types, including commercial liability, director and officer liability, professional indemnity, business interruption, property damage, construction defects, cybersecurity and data breach, product liability, casualty, life, accident, and health. Moroğlu Arseven also supports insurers with disputes stemming from subrogated recoveries, as well as assist them to structure and implement counter-fraud solutions which mitigate potential conflicts.
