

Moroğlu Arseven Recognized by Global Competition Review in 2017 GCR100 Awards

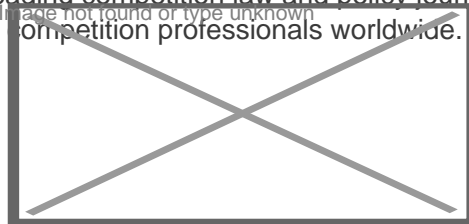

2 Feb 2017

Moroğlu Arseven has been recognized for the third year in a row by the Global Competition Review, being recommended for competition law work in the 2017 GCR100 Survey.

The researchers commented on continued development of the competitor law practice, led by Bora Şkiler. They also noted the firm's specialty "in helping clients navigate vertical relationships with downstream distributors."

Since 2013, Bora Şkiler has been recognized for his competition law work by Who's Who Legal, a related research exercise (more). He is one of only two Turkish practitioners who are noted in both the GCR100 and Who's Who Legal awards.

The Global Competition Review is a leading competition law and policy journal and news service. Launched in 1997, its resources are used by over 10,000 competition professionals worldwide. More information can be found on the Global Competition Review's website.

Related Practices

- Antitrust and Competition